The morning session, saids from the splendid speech delivered by the temporary chairman, Lieutenant Governor de Baca, was devoted to routine business and welcoming ad-dresses. The organization of the committees was effected shortly after 12 o'clock and the committees began mittees sitting in the Commercial citib. Although the recess at noon was taken until 2 o'clock, it was 4 o'clock when the convention was called to order again, and little in the way of final action was considered probable before 5 o'clock. The delegates completely filled the
